

Does your relationship need a spring clean?

DATE: APRIL 2009

Spring is a time of rebirth and renewal, whether it's decorating your house, clearing out your loft or something more fundamental, such as solving your relationship woes. If you have already made the decision to end your marriage and start afresh but don't know what to do next, Pictons Solicitors may be able to help.

From 11th to 15th May, two of Pictons Solicitors offices in Dunstable Road Luton and Silbury Boulevard Milton Keynes, will be offering free 30 minute consultations for anybody seeking legal advice in respect of their marriage. Sukhdeep Saini, a Partner at Pictons says: "For some people divorce can be a positive step. It can be an opportunity to close one chapter of their life and move onto the next, with the assurance that they have done everything possible to try and salvage their marriage."

"We have found that the holiday periods are usually when people reassess their relationships, they have more time together to work out whether their relationship is working and talk things through to find a resolution. That's why we're offering this free service. People often mistakenly associate legal advice with expense which puts them off resolving difficult situations particularly in the current economic climate. The drop in session will enable people to come and find out for themselves what is actually involved in the process and whether it is what they really want to do."

To book your free 30 minute consultation between 10am and 4pm Monday 11th - Friday 15th May call the Luton office on 01582 870 880 or the Milton Keynes office on 01908 663511. Appointments are on a first come first served basis.
